

HOOF CARE CLINIC: HOOF READING 102

Hoof Reading 102 is the perfect follow on for horse owners who have completed 101 but want to learn more.

We will study the internal anatomy of the hoof in more depth and how this has implications both for daily work and maintenance of the healthy horse and how it affects the rehabilitation of unhealthy hooves. We will review what constitutes good foot balance and why symmetry and balance should not be confused. We will also explore why trying to make an asymmetric foot symmetrical can lead to short and longer term problems.

In the afternoon we will dissect a number of hooves to put into practice the lessons of the morning. This will include booting and padding for the more common hoof conditions.

HOW TO JOIN:

The Hoof Reading 102 clinic is priced at £120 per person and includes tea, coffee and the use of a cadaver leg. Class sizes are kept small to allow for the maximum tutor time per student.

ABOUT BAREFOOT-SOUTH

Lucy Priory - Principal

I've owned and managed barefoot horses for nearly 20 years. It's been a long journey from when I started to this point in time, but a thoroughly rewarding one. It wasn't until I got Grace that I decided to turn professional.

I originally qualified with the AANHCP, the leading provider of Natural Hoof Care, scoring 90% in my final exam.

I now run my own business; Barefoot South. I have a very strict code of ethics which puts your horse's welfare at the centre of any care recommendations.

OUR SERVICES:

- Hoof rehabilitation
- High performance barefoot care
- Education on how to successfully manage a barefoot horse
- Dietary advice for healthy hooves
- Exercise and conditioning regime for healthy horses
